

Code of Conduct

By accessing or using this website (www.lizzadrofamily.wixsite/generations), you approve that you have read, understood, and agree to be bound by this code of conduct.

Conduct

By using this website, you agree to abide by the following:

- Only contribute that which is appropriate for people of all ages, including children.
- Only contribute that which is productive and not anything that would interfere with, disrupt, or inhibit other users from fully enjoying the website.
- Use this website for its intended purpose (connecting with family, encouraging one another, and sharing memories) and not for any inappropriate or illegal purpose.
- Treat everyone associated with this website with respect and to exercise restraint and decorum in any interaction.
- Treat all website members' information with strict privacy.

The administrators prohibit members or any other person from engaging in any activity that we, in our sole discretion, determine is offensive, interferes with the rights of others, or causes harm to any person.